CHAPLEAU ON THE SPIT.

THE OBNOXIOUS EVIDENCE AT LAST ALLOWED.

Young's Statement in Regard to the La Presse Agreement—Bowell was Informed of Senecal's Misdoings—Mercier's Statement Submitted to Parliament.

Special to the Times.]

OTTAWA, Sept 25.—There were half a dozen bear garden scenes at the Public Accounts Committee yesterday. After it was shown that Bronskill got several more commissions from paper companies, a great fight occurred again over the New England Paper Company and Chapleau's connection therewith. Holland, the stenographer, who took the notes of the New England Paper Company's suit in court, was called by Lister and asked to read his notes. Chapleau protested against reading the notes. Lister charged that if he got these notes he could prove that Chapleau had entered into a corrupt agreement and that Chapleau had also personal knowledge of the plundering of senecal. By a vote of 20 to 17 the reading of the notes was refused. Lister again moved that the matter be referred to a subcommittee. This was again refused, although the notes are permissible evidence in any court in Canada.

A. P. Bradley, Secretary of the Department of Railways and Canals, has been suspended as a result of the disclosures before the Public Accounts Committee, where it transpired that his son drew government pay while studying medicine in Montreal.

Mr. Peter White, the Speaker of the House of Commons, is likely to enter the ministry, and to be succeeded in the speakership by Mr. J. F. Wood, the present Deputy Speaker.

Mercier's explanation to the Lieutenant-Governor of his part in the Bae ides Chaleurs matter has been presented to Parliament. He insists that so far as the negotiations of the Provincial Government with the company were concerned, everything was strictly honorable and regular. He disavows all knowledge of the toll of $100,000 levied by Pacaud on the contractors, and says the transaction was deeply regrettable. The Government had no responsibility for the notes with the names of himself and other members of the Provincial Government attached; they were given for the purpose of entering protests against the Conservatives elected to the House of Commons. He and the other endorsers considered themselves responsible for the amounts. He never knew until the Senate enquiry that the notes were redeemed by Pacaud with Baie des Chaleurs boodle. He insists that the Government acted honorably throughout.

Mr. Lister's motion for a committee to enquire into the relations of Postmaster-General Haggart and the contractors for section "B," Canadian Pacific Railway, was opposed by Sir John Thompson on the ground that Haggart had been four times re-elected since the time of the alleged offence. He moved that the House proceed to the next order of business. Hon. Mr. Laurier thought that the late period of the session should not prevent an inquiry being instituted. The personal honor of Mr. Haggart was affected. He therefore urged that a committee be appointed. Mr. Lister's motion was defeated by a majority of 24. Mr. Tarte did not vote.

The debate on the Tarte-Langevin matter occupied the House yesterday. The report of the committee was adopted by a vote of 101 to 86.

Mr. Barber, of the Georgetown paper mills, at the Public Accounts to-day said that in April last he informed Mr. Bowell that Senecal was in the habit of exacting commission from parties who had contracts with the government. He did so in reply to a question by Bowell, who said that he had heard remarks to that effect. Bowell said he would take steps to have it stopped. Mr. Chamberlain, Queen's printer, had also asked if it was true that Senecal was taking commissions. Barber answered that he would write him from Toronto, not then wishing to inform Chamberlain because it might hurt him in getting further contracts.

From this the committee again proceeded to the New England Paper Company matter. Mr. Chapleau, after making a little speech, read a part of the evidence about which there has been such a fight. It showed that J. Brooks Young, manager of the paper company, swore in court at Montreal that Berthiaume, of La Presse, Chapleau's organ, told him that the New England Paper Company got contracts through Chapleau at Ottawa. Half of the profits of these contracts would go to pay notes of $8000 which the company held against La Presse, and which were endorsed by Chapleau who "would not have to put his hand in his pocket to pay off these notes." The first contract was for $1000, on which there was $100 profit.

It was finally agreed to produce the whole deposition taken in court. Chapleau is deeper in the mire than Sir Hector.

Mr. Crow Baker occupied a seat in the senators' gallery of the Commons to-day.

Sir John Thompson in the House said Parliament would prorogue early next week.

To Be Made a Knight.

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—It is understood that Hon. Mr. Lacoste, the new Chief Justice, will shortly be knighted.

Smallpox in Mexico.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Word has been received from the city of Campeche, Mexico, that smallpox is raging there. Over 1000 cases and more than 200 deaths are reported. The people are panic-stricken, and the disease is spreading.

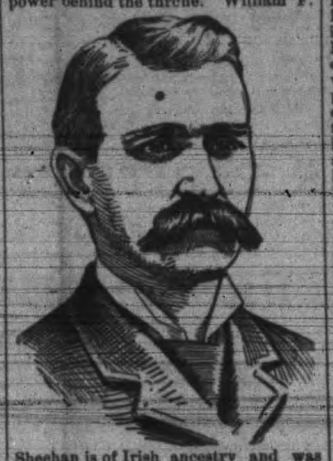
Couldn't Believe in the "Holy Coat."

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—There is a sensation in Catholic circles owing to the announcement that Professor W. Wundschiel, of Leipsic, a member of one of the most noted Catholic families, has announced his conversion to the Protestant faith because of disbelief in the "holy coat," and scruples against supporting the church that would sanction such an exhibition.

WILLIAM F. SHEEHAN.

The Democratic Nominee for Lieutenant-Governor of New York State.

It is not a matter of interest to the country generally who may be the Lieutenant-Governor of New York, but William F. Sheehan, the present nominee, has other claims to consideration. He is probably the astutest political manipulator in the State—a sort of power behind the throne. William F.



Sheehan is of Irish ancestry and was born in Buffalo, N.Y., November 6, 1859. In early youth he attended public school, afterwards he went to St. John's College, Buffalo. He read law with the Hon. Charles F. Tabor and became a member of the bar in 1891. He is now in partnership with Tabor, who was afterwards Attorney-General. He became a member of the Assembly at Albany in 1885, serving on the State Charitable Institutions and Judiciary Committees. In 1887 he was on the Committee on Federal Relations and Rules, Ways and Means and Revision. He has the distinction of being elected to the Assembly by the largest plurality ever given for any candidate in his district. He is also the first Assemblyman in Erie County ever chosen five times in succession. At present he is Speaker of the Albany Assembly, and has been three times the Democratic nominee for that office.

NANAIMO NEWS.

The Dunsmuirs Get it—Miners' Union—Scarcity of Lumber.

NANAIMO, Sept. 25.—There was considerable talk in the city last evening and early this morning about the trial of the leaders of the Miner's Union on a charge of conspiracy. It is stated that several other charges are to be laid and will include several more of the officials of the union. The case was brought on this morning but was adjourned till the afternoon to enable council for the complainant to be present.

THE DUNSMUIR GRANT.

The surveying party under the charge of Mr. W. Ralph arrived here this morning en route to Victoria. This party left San Juan harbor on May 27th to survey the boundary line between the Government's and Dunsmuirs' property, and got as far as Alberni, where they were forced to discontinue, owing to the wet weather. The party states that this survey gives about one-third of the Island to the railway, but the land is said to be very poor. The trip has been an exceptionally rough one, and the high land encountered added to the difficulties.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Messrs. Keller & Lukey have opened a job printing office in this city, and will no doubt make a success of the new business. Their plant is a large one, and they are well prepared to do all classes of printing. Both are young men and are well known in this city and they state they will be perfectly satisfied if they can corral the work that is sent to Vancouver. They also intend to publish a weekly sheet on a small scale, which will be more intended to advertise their business than for any remuneration there may be in it.

SCARCITY OF LUMBER.

In consequence of the extensive building operations being undertaken in this city many find it difficult to obtain sufficient lumber to complete their respective buildings. The mill is kept running to its full capacity, but is not able to meet the demand. Everyone is anxious to make the most of the present fine weather, hence the rush at the mill. Although so many buildings are being erected the demand for dwellings to rent seems to be as great as ever.

WHENCE WAR MAY COME.

RUSSIA MAY BREAK FOR CONSTANTINOPLE.

Foreign Residents of the City Nervous—The Dardanelles Incident—Native Discontent in India—Death of the Grand Duchess Paul of Russia.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The sudden death of the Grand Duchess Alexandria has broken up the family party at Fredensburg, and the imperial family of Russia and the royal households of Denmark and Greece will have to go into mourning in reality, and other European royalties will mourn by courtesy. The death of the Grand Duchess will probably make a change in the plans of the Czar, and may lead to the omission of the proposed interview between the Czar and the Kaiser. Paul is the Czar's favorite brother, and the affliction which he suffers in the loss of his young wife cannot fail to excite the liveliest sympathy of the autocrat. Paul was deeply attached to his wife, who was not more than a child, being 19 at the time of her marriage, about two years ago. As a rule the Russian grand dukes do not get along very well with their wives, but Paul was an exception, and the devotion of the pair to each other has excited frequent remarks. Besides the son, whose birth was followed by her own death, the Grand Duchess leaves a daughter about 17 months old. The children will probably be taken charge of by their grandparents, the King and Queen of Greece.

THE DARDANELLES.

A Constantinople dispatch says that the Russian minister had a long conference with the Sultan in regard to the circular to the powers relative to the passage of the Dardanelles by Russian vessels. The wording of the circular is said to be not satisfactory to the Russians, who claim that the incident was a matter of settlement between Russia and Turkey alone, and neither country owes anybody else an explanation.

DISCONTENT IN INDIA.

Calcutta advices state that the Viceroy is much alarmed by the sullen tone of the native populace, who have been particularly aggressive of late. The age-of-consent law is said to be the chief foundation of popular anger. It is interfering with the customs of the Hindoos more than was at first expected and several husbands have already been prosecuted for taking their child wives home under the legal ages. The priests are especially angry at the bill, which tends to deprive their order of certain old fashioned privileges. The lack of cohesion among the natives is the strongest factor in making successful rebellion almost impossible. At the same time a large number of Europeans claim that British rule in India is really in danger, owing to the rash course of the viceroy, both in domestic affairs and in the severe punishment of the leaders in the Manipur insurrection. The leaders of the feudatory states of India are said to feel uneasy in consequence of the way in which the royal family of Manipur was treated, and they are asking each other what the fate would be of any other Indian prince who might be driven by intolerable tyranny into armed resistance against British authority. The hanging of the Senaputty was especially offensive to the Hindoos, that being considered a most disgraceful form of execution, and although England has not formally annexed Manipur, the state is to remain virtually within complete control of the English officials. All these circumstances go to influence the Hindoo mind, and make it receptive of disloyal sentiments against Great Britain.

THE ANTICIPATED WAR.

A Paris dispatch says that although the belief prevails that war will soon break out nobody anticipates that it will be a war between France and Germany. Last night's advices from Constantinople state that the foreign residents are more aroused than they have been for years and that no doubt is entertained that Russia will soon attack the Turks. So pronounced is this belief that some of the foreign residents are preparing to leave Stamboul for Italy, and thus escape being crushed between the combatants.

Chinese Riots.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A dispatch to the Times from Foo Chow, China, says a secretly organized scheme to capture the arsenal has been discovered by foreigners employed there. Foreign residents consider the presence of a gunboat imperative.

Foundered Near Cape Horn.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The American ship Charles Dennis, from New York for San Francisco, foundered near Cape Horn. The American ship Keele, of Bath, from Puget Sound for Havre, landed the Dennis crew at Rio Janeiro.

Big Crops in Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 24.—Abundant harvests are reported from most of the Turkis provinces.

They Favor Blaine.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 24.—The republican state convention was called to order at 10 o'clock, this morning, by Chairman Watson of the state central committee. He made a brief speech, congratulating the delegates upon the large attendance, and predicting success for the candidates to be nominated. "If the signs are true," said Chairman Watson, "the republican national convention at Omaha [cheers] in 1892, will nominate the next president of the United States, and that man will be the glorious captain of the gallant ship of state, the skillful navigator, fearless leader, the bright, brilliant, matchless Blaine." At the mention of the name of Blaine a cord from the rear was touched and a portrait of the secretary of state dropped in sight. The effect was magical—500 delegates immediate sprang to their feet and cheered. In constructing the platform there was little difference of opinion as the financial and transportation question. It was finally decided to place the Republicans of Nebraska on record as declaring for honest money and endorsing the Republican legislation in the last congress on the silver question. Equitable adjustment of freight rates is demanded, and the McKinley tariff law and principle of reciprocity is warmly endorsed. The administration of President Harrison is approved, and Nebraskans point with pride to the diplomatic victories achieved by the state and agricultural departments of the Republican administration, in securing the admission of American pork into France and Germany.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Victoria Looks Strange to Mr. S. F. Coombes of Seattle.

Mr. S. F. Coombes, of Seattle, who has had control of the gangs of Indians who have been hop-picking at Snoqualmie the past season, was in Victoria to-day, and in conversation with a reporter remarked that it was thirty years since he had been in Victoria before. The contrast, he says, is something wonderful. "I have lived in Seattle 32 years," said he, "and that city has grown from a camp to be a metropolis, but I could not appreciate the growth as I can that of your city. When I was first here Yates street was the principal business place, and the town was virtually a Hudson Bay port. To-day it is a big city, and a solid one too, from all appearance."

Mr. Coombes has been for several years in public life at Seattle, having filled many important positions, and from his extensive knowledge of life in this part of the world, can tell many an interesting story of the past. He was, in 1860, agent for Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express, and had intimate business relations with the late Mr. Garesche, who was lost in the Pacific disaster.

Mr. Coombes says the Cowichan Indians have done the best at hop-picking this year of all the tribes at work, he having given them over $2000 worth of tickets, this representing about one-third of the wages paid by the Snoqualmie ranch, whose yield of hops this year was over the average. Mr. Coombes leaves on the steamer to-night for his home in Seattle. Mort Coombes, a son of Mr. Coombes, and a native of Seattle, is assistant engineer on the steamer Premier, and one of the few who holds the U. S. engineers' license for ocean going steamers.

SCHOONER OTTO SEIZED.

Claimed She Had Improper Papers—Strange Proceedings.

The sealing schooner Otto, Capt. O'Reilly, owned by local parties, came in last night, she having been seized by the U.S.S. Mohican on the 2nd of September for alleged irregularities in her papers, and taken into Ounalaska where she was handed over to the British authorities, and ordered to return to Victoria and report to the collector of customs that she had been seized for having improper papers.

When the Mohican first spoke the Otto in the sea, the schooner was served with the regulation proclamation. She had 28 seal at the time and was ordered to clear out, but shortly after the man-of-war returned to the schooner and Capt. O'Reilly was told his vessel was under arrest.

It having been reported that the Otto was seized because she had cleared from this port after the sea had been declared closed, an interview was had this morning with Collector Milne, when it was learned that the Otto cleared from here on the 26th of June, and that the fact that the sea had been declared closed and a modus vivendi arrived at, had not been semi-officially announced by the arrival of the Canadian Gazette until the 27th. On this date the Gazette, dated 18th June, arrived containing a copy of the act closing Behring Sea as approved by the Privy Council. This was the first and only official notice given. The Otto had then been twenty-four hours at sea, and was out of the control of the custom house authorities.

As to the report that there was an irregularity concerning her papers pertaining to the change of owners and master, that is a matter said by nautical authorities to carry no weight. It is not necessary for a vessel's registry to bear upon its face the names of the master and owners at the time in control. The registry may be a copy of the original one when the vessel was newly built, and still be perfectly regular, even if owners and masters have been changed dozens of times. A registered bill of sale or mortgage can change owners or claimants, and the register need make no mention of the matter at all.

Inquiry among nautical men and those versed in maritime law has disclosed the fact, that in their opinion, some mistake has been made, and that no doubt when matters are explained the Otto will be released. Pending this, however, nothing can be landed from her.

Lenz-Cohn.

Mr. Moses Lenz, of the firm of Lenz & Leiser, was married in San Francisco on Wednesday, the 16th inst., to Miss Hattie Cohn, daughter of a well known business man of the Bay city. The groom is well known and deservedly popular all through the province. The bride is also known in Victoria, having spent several weeks here this summer. The wedding was a large and fashionable one. Mr J. Lenz and Mrs Cohn, father and sister of the groom, who attended the wedding, returned home today. The bridal party will return next week.

Ladies, before making your fall purchases, please call at Stevens & Jenkins', Douglas street. We have a splendid line of fall jackets, hats and the latest styles in dress goods; first-class dress and riding habit making. Seal and all kinds of furs made up or altered. sp17-2w

VERNON VS. THE TIMES.

THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER'S SUIT UNDER TRIAL.

Opening of the Case For the Plaintiff—Mr. Vernon's Evidence—The Claims and Applications in Connection With Fort Simpson Lands.

In opening the case for the plaintiff, Mr. E. V. Bodwell remarked that this was an action for libel commenced by the Hon. Forbes G. Vernon, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works of British Columbia, against the TIMES Printing and Publishing Company, and William Templeman, manager of that company, in respect to an article which appeared in that paper, July 21st, 1891. The article in question charged Mr. Vernon with an abuse of his position of Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, whereby there was caused a wrongful disposition of certain lands in the neighborhood of Fort Simpson. In this connection Mr. Bodwell explained the provisions of the Land Act with reference to the disposal of Crownlands, and the conditions prescribed for acquiring them. He also explained at some length the clerical course through which applications for Crown Lands had to go through in the Department of Lands and Works. A great deal might be said of the manner in which the Government acts in this transfer of Crown Lands to the individual, if the question were to be discussed now, but it has been the policy, not only of the present but of every other government to encourage in every way the acquisition of Crown Lands by the individual; and so it has been the habit to treat those applying for land in the most liberal way, and in construing the provisions of the Land Act as favorably as possible. As to staking out the land, it never could have been the intention of the Legislature to turn the Department of Lands and Works into a sort of public detective office by sending out clerks to see if every applicant has staked the land he applied for in accordance with the provisions of the Act. It was generally assumed that the applicant had complied with the law, and as to any rival claim, the 60 days' notice in the Gazette not bringing forward any claimant, it was supposed that no one had any claim on the land. These were the rules of the Land Department in the year 1889 when the question which forms the subject of this discussion, to a large extent, arose. Mr. Bodwell went minutely into the details of the applications made by Messrs. Barnard, Davies and Cunningham for the lands in question, giving the dates of gazetting and acceptance of deposit. Other persons were, however, desirous of obtaining these lands, and made application for them. In the month of March, 1839, several letters were received at the Department on behalf of Messrs. Hall, Green, Alexander, Hopkins and others, protesting against the granting of this land to Davies and others. These letters were a simple statement that the gentlemen named had not staked off the land they applied for in accordance with the act. According to the construction which the Department had placed on the act, the sixty days having elapsed without the receipt of any protest, those making the second claim had no case whatever. If such was not a proper construction, the Land Act itself provides a remedy in allowing appeal to a judge of the Supreme Court. The learned counsel for the plaintiff went into further data about the relative claims of the two parties, and then came to speak of the article published in the TIMES of 21st July, which he said was highly defamatory, and accused Mr. Vernon of a gross abuse of his official position. The article accused Mr. Vernon of favoritism in the disposition of public lands to friends, but the speaker wished to show that such was not the case, and instanced a couple of gentlemen. One, Mr. Hall, an applicant for these lands, was a supporter of the government, in whose interests he had been elected. In short, Mr. Bodwell denounced the article as full of falsehoods, and called upon the jury, in view of the injury that had been done thereby to Mr. Vernon's reputation and character, to award to him substantial damages.

Mr. Davie, Attorney-General for the province, was sworn to prove the publication of the libel. He did so, stating that he himself purchased a copy of the paper containing the alleged libel.

The plaintiff, Mr. Vernon, Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, was sworn to give evidence. He was examined by Mr. Charles Wilson, who questioned him as to the surveys of the lands in dispute, and when they were made. Mr. Davies made application for a thousand acres in 1889, the date of the first insertion of his notice of application in the Gazette being 5th December, 1889; the date of application was January 25th, 1890. Mr. Barnard made application for 520 acres on the 6th of February, 1890, the first insertion of his notice in the Gazette being 21st December.

Both these documents were put into court by counsel for the plaintiff.

The court here rose for luncheon and reassembled at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Wilson resumed the examination of Mr. Vernon, and put into court the application of Mr. Cunningham, dated 10th of March, 1890, as well as copies of all correspondence about the lands in dispute. In explaining several of them Mr. Vernon repeated his interpretation of the act, in assuming that after the 60 days' notice, if no claim were entered in the meantime, no after dispute could be entertained. Questioned as to why he went home Mr. Vernon explained that it was purely family business which called him away to England, from where he returned on the 23rd of January, 1891. He was then informed that an investigation was wanted by the executive into the claims of the rival applicants, and he consequently proceeded to hold that investigation. He reduced as much as he could of the enquiry to writing, and embodied it in a report to the executive. "Briefly speaking, the whole point of the investigation went to show that Davies and Barnard had not staked their land in accordance with the act, and this was proved to a certain extent, by circumstantial evidence. It was proved that no one could find stakes if any had been planted, and the residents of Fort Simpson could not remember any parties having gone up there to place stakes. This having been proved, it became the duty of the commissioner to see how far the rival parties had complied with the law, and it was found that they had not done so, any more than Davies and Barnard. Under the circumstances it was not competent for the Commissioner to put the lands up for sale by public auction, nor to grant to either of the parties. He denied having held the investigation to prevent a select committee of the Legislature enquiring into it. There were some portions of land not actually in dispute which he might have given to Messrs. Barnard and Davies, but he thought that it would be improper to give it to them, and he felt, also, that it was more desirable that the Government should retain some portions for school and governmental purposes. Instead of selling all the land, therefore, he took the opportunity of reserving those lands not actually in dispute, as public reserves, and decided to put the whole of the balance up for sale by public competition. But subsequently to taking this course, and after having advertised the lands for sale, he recommended that they be withdrawn. His reason for this was owing to certain information which was placed before the other members of the Government. This information he could not state to the court. Coming to be examined on the alleged libel published in the TIMES, Mr. Vernon denied having practised favoritism in the disposition of public lands, and stated that all documentary evidence in connection of this matter had been disclosed. He was acquainted with all the parties applying for these lands. The statement was also denied that the applicants had complied with the requirements of the Land Act, and he said it was a gross falsehood the statement that the Department of Lands and Works of British Columbia would be found in as bad a state as the Department of Public Works at Ottawa.

Mr. Wilson introduced a copy of the Seattle Telegraph and the Colonies and India, containing mention of the case.

Mr. Belyea, for the defence, objected to the Seattle Telegraph being entered. It was not evidence, and if there was any libel, it was another one altogether. Mr. Belyea pressed his objection on the ground that the defense was responsible only for the publication of the TIMES. The notice in the Seattle Telegraph was only a few lines of comment on the original article, and purported to be a special telegram from Victoria. The Judge, however, admitted the statement in the "Colonies and India" as evidence, because it referred directly to the TIMES.

Mr. Fell pointed out that the item simply stated that the TIMES charged Mr. Vernon with discrimination.

Cross-examined by Mr. Fell, the plaintiff stated that he had first heard of the article complained of the morning after it was published. This was about 7 or 8 o'clock.

Council—What time was the executive meeting held?

Witness—Who said there was an executive meeting?

Counsel—Will you please answer my question?

Witness—I won't be certain; I do not think there was one; I really cannot say there was one.

Pressed further as to whether there was not something very important to do at that meeting with regard to the article in the TIMES, witness said he really could not say whether there was a meeting the day following or two days following the article in the TIMES.

Counsel?—When did you instruct the writ to be issued?

Witness—Steps were taken immediately, directly I saw the article.

Mr. Fell—What time was that?

Witness—It was the same day—or the day after, according to the act I think 24 hours had to elapse before serving the writ.

Mr. Fell—Who told you that?

Witness—That is not necessary; the act—

Mr. Fell—Were you told that?

Witness—I dare say I was.

Mr. Fell—Was there a meeting of the executive before the writ was issued?

Witness—I have no remembrance of a meeting of the executive. I had a conversation with some members of the executive, but as to any meeting I am pretty certain there was none.

Mr. Fell—Do you know who prepared your statement of claim?

Witness—My solicitors, Messrs. Bodwell & Irving.

Mr. Fell—Was there a meeting of the executive before that statement of claim was made?

Witness—I do not think so; I am pretty sure there was not.

Mr. Fell—Then how did the orders-in-council get into the hands of Messrs. Bodwell & Irving if there was no meeting, because there was an order-in-council allowing the publication of these documents?

Witness—When?

Mr. Fell—You had it in the correspondence here dated 23rd July 1891. What is the date of your writ?

Witness—These things I leave in the hands of my counsel.

Mr. Fell—Your writ is dated the same day as the order-in-council?

Witness—Yes.

Mr. Fell—The libel you say was issued on the morning of the 22nd.

Witness—Yes.

Mr. Fell—You stated you were sure there was no meeting of the executive for two days afterwards?

Witness—Yes, certainly.

Mr. Fell—There was no executive meeting on the 23rd and 24th?

Witness—Oh, I would not be certain. There must have been a meeting. I suppose—I really cannot say the dates of these meetings. They speak for themselves. I suppose they could be got if you really wish them.

Mr. Fell—Was not your statement of claim delivered with the writ the same day?

Witness—These are questions I leave to my legal advisers.

Mr. Fell—How came that order-in-council to be made by the attorney-general instead of yourself?

Witness—It is a very ordinary one and it does not matter on whose recommendation it was made. I cannot tell whether I requested him or not; it does not bear on the case.

Being pressed witness said he dared say he did request the attorney-general to make the order-in-council. He also denied that Mr. Davie had acted as counsel for him.

The original field notes of the Ralph survey were produced in court and Mr. Fell proceeded to examine plaintiff therefrom. Mr. Vernon had been informed that these lands were submerged. As to why these lands, surveyed in 1883, were not gazetted with the others,

STANLEY AND THE CONGO.

A Report that He Would Have Been Governor but for His Mother-in-Law.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—It is true, as has been frequently stated, that Mr. Henry M. Stanley never accepted the Governorship of the Congo Free State, but early in the present year he promised to consider the question of taking the position. Recently King Leopold, of Belgium, at Mr. Stanley's suggestion, offered the place to a German officer, Von Wissman, but it was declined. After this it was again pressed on Mr. Stanley, who was urged to take it practically at his own terms. It is notorious that Leopold believes Stanley to be the only man who could make the Congo experiment a profitable one. So anxious was the King to have Mr. Stanley take the office that he ogered to pay the $10,000 forfeit which would be due the Melbourne impressario Smyth if Stanley should break his contract to lecture in Australia. Stanley was quite recently half disposed to change his mind and return to the Congo, if only for the opportunity that would be afforded of settling old scores with Tippo Tib, who has lately been openly vilifying Stanley at Zanzibar, probably emboldened by the belief that the redoubtable explorer would never return to Africa. Mrs. Stanley was quite pleased with the idea of occupying a semi-regal throne, but her mother would not hear of it, and it is stated by people who ought to know that Stanley yielded to his mother-in-law in the matter, but himself as well as his wife are inclined to go. In this connection it may be stated that the strong influence of his mother-in-law over the explorer has been a subject of considerable comment recently. Gossip has it that the non-arrival of a yearned for little Stanley is Mrs. Tennant's daily grievance, and that the exhibition of her diurnal hopes and fears in this respect is quite common. It is known in Brussels that some of the ablest officers in the Congo country will resign if Stanley becomes governor. Long and bloody wars with the Arabs may also be counted upon as the result of his assuming control of affairs in that region. When Smyth was in London recently he refused to disclose the terms of his contract with Stanley, but the figures are undeniably large, and it is believed by persons familiar with Australian matters that the impressario will lose money on the venture, unless he succeeds in doing what had never been done before, that is, inducing the Australians to pay more to hear a lecture than any other entertainments given. The highest price obtainable for seats is everywhere in Australia five shillings; and the only star who ever commanded more was Bernhardt. Mrs. Potter tried it and made an ignominious failure, despite her popularity. Stanley will return to England after his Australian trip via San Francisco in January.

Hearst's Yacht.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A special to the Press from Newport, R.I., says:—Yacht experts over in the town of Bristol say that if the new Herreshoff steam yacht Vamoose is beat in the impending race under the auspices of the American Yacht Club, it will be the fault of W. R. Hearst, her owner. The Vamoose is one mile an hour slower than she should have been, due to the fact that W. R. Hearst, for whom she was built would not keep his hands off and give the builders a fair chance to show what they could do. The Vamoose drags at the stern because her machinery is placed too far aft. Mr. Hearst wanted a cabin for himself in the forward part of the boat and he wanted it so badly that he would not have the boat without it. Captain Nat Herreshoff showed in the plans that the machinery was to go pretty far forward, so far in fact that Mr. Hearst's cabin would be a very small affair indeed. Mr. Hearst insisted that the machinery should go where it is. As a piece of work the Vamoose does not at all compare with the torpedo boat Cushing and the feeling in Bristol is that the Cushing is able to steam all round the Vamoose as the Vamoose capered about the Mary Powell and the Monmouth.

Stole a Gold Brick.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—John S. Fitzgerald, of Brooklyn, tried yesterday to sell a gold brick worth $278.03, to money broker James Walsh, No. 5 Wall street. Fitzgerald's strange action finally led to his arrest. He then said he obtained the brick from a clerk named Miles, with Handy & Haron, bankers, of 25 Nassau street. Miles was arrested when he left work and on being confronted with proofs of his guilt confessed that he stole the brick and gave it to Fitzgerald to sell, and that he had been steadily stealing from employers for the past three months. Miles and Fitzgerald were both locked up at police headquarters. Miles refused to say how much he had stolen, saying he preferred to inform his employers, so they could regain possession of the property. Miles is 18 and lives at Bayonne, N.J. He came from California a year ago and says he knew Fitzgerald in San Francisco. Fitzgerald refuses to talk.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Wisdom's Violet Cream

Is the most exquisite preparation in the world for softening the hands and face. It is not only a substitute for, but in every respect superior to glycerine, cold cream, vaseline, and like preparations. Try it. D. E. Campbell, Agent.

Fixing Freight Rates.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The commissioners of the Western Traffic Association gave out a number of decisions to-day, among them being one setting forth that the Atchison and Southern Pacific have, in violation of the presidents' agreement withdrawn the lumber tariff between California and Texas from the judicious of the Western Traffic Association and that the rates on such shipments should be restored at once to the former basis. Another decision authorizes the Northern Pacific road to establish a rate of 50 cents per hundred pounds on material for the construction of merchant marine vessels from Pittsburg to Tacoma with the understanding that if the rate is found to be applied to other material or is likely to involve similar reduced rates to other Pacific coast points the tariff that was authorized shall forthwith be withdrawn.

Drowned at Long Island.

NEWTON, L.I., Sept. 24.—This morning Max Conradi identified the body of a young man dressed in a blue bathing suit washed ashore at the North beach yesterday as that of his friend, young Frank O. Jaynes, who was drowned last Sunday while bathing off Rykert's Island with Conradi. The coroner's jury viewed the body of Jaynes and the coroner postponed the inquest till next Tuesday evening. Conradi is held in a $500 bond to appear at the inquest. Frank O. Jaynes was the son of rich parents at San Francisco and was here to attend Columbia College, and arrived a week ago. Jaynes boarded with Conradi's aunt, Mrs. Biddle, at 235½ East Fourth street, New York. Jaynes' body still lies in the Newton morgue. It is in an advanced state of decomposition. A lip is cut off, and the body is covered with bruises. This is believed to be caused by the tides

Mexican Raiders Scattered.

WASHINGTON CITY, Sept. 24.—A telegram received at the Department of State from the United States consul at Matamoras, Mexico, states that Garcia, with a party of raiders, passed yesterday west of that place, moving for the Rio Grande. A telegram from General Stanley, dated San Antonio, says the commandant at Fort Brown reports that last night General Lojoro, commanding the Fourth Mexican zone, informed him that his cavalry had not come in contact with the marauders. He was, therefore, of the opinion that they were scattered, and were returning to Texas in small detachments, as the police had notified him that two such parties had crossed the Rio Grande twelve miles above Brownsville, and several others between that place and Santa Maria. The opinion among the officers at Fort Brown was that the Garcia expedition was organized for robbery, and has no political significance.

Slain by the Cheyennes.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—A letter received to-day by the Associated Press from Juneau, Alaska, under date of Sept. 12th, says: Intelligence has just reached here from the upper Yukon, that a band of hostile Chileats have attacked a small hunting party of two whites and five Indians, and that several were killed. It is thought here that the party is the Ewing-Earlscliff, the one composed of E. B. Ewing, a prominent citizen and journalist of Missouri, and Herbert Earlscliff, a young Englishman and five Indians. All were well armed. No particulars could be learned from the Indian who brought the news.

"Just as Good."

Say some dealers who try to sell a substitute preparation when a customer calls for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Do not allow any such false statements as this induce you to buy what you do not want. Remember, that the only reason for making it is that a few cents more profit will be made on the substitute. Insist upon having the best medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is Peculiar to itself.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO
There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."
Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

WESTMINSTER DEFEATS VANCOUVER.
The match between the Westminster and Vancouver clubs at Westminster yesterday resulted in a victory for the former by four games to three. The Westminsters took the first three games in 7¼ minutes, 45 minutes and 10 minutes, and the Vancouvers the next three in 11 minutes, 24½ minutes and 1¾ minutes. The seventh and deciding game was then played, being won in 45 minutes by Westminster. In the course of the final game the referee, W. H. Cullin, of Victoria, was abused by Smith, captain of the Vancouvers, and a scuffle ensued, but the men were separated. There was some very rough play in the match, and some vile language was used.

LANGEVIN'S CASE.

The majority report of the committee on Privileges and Elections on the Langevin case has been adopted by the Commons by a majority of 15, and there the matter ends, so far as parliament is concerned. In time, no doubt, the people will have an opportunity of judging in turn the action of the Conservative majority. The Colonist seems to have fully settled in its own mind that the majority report was not a "whitewashing" one in regard to Sir Hector Langevin, and that there was a substantial agreement between the conclusions of the majority and minority of the committee. It is difficult to see how any person examining the finding of the two reports can so conclude. The document signed by Sir John Thompson and Messrs. Girouard and Adams winds up as follows:

Having regard to various features which appear in the contracts which were the subject of this investigation, we feel bound to report that the members of the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co. conspired to defraud the Government and the Harbor Commissioners, and were materially aided in their designs by the interference of Thomas McGreevy, as has been shown in earlier parts of this report. This conspiracy has been all the more powerful and effective by reason of the confidence which the late Minister of Public Works had in the integrity and efficiency of his officers and by reason of the confidence which the late Minister entertained with regard to Thomas McGreevy, and has accomplished results which are to be greatly regretted as regards the administration of the Department, and greatly to be condemned as regards those who lent themselves knowingly to the purposes of the conspirators.

The charges against Sir Hector Langevin, as already intimated, having been as above set forth, the Committee would observe that in course of the investigation an effort was made to connect him with the wrong-doing of others who have been reported against as directly connected with fraudulent conduct.

Your Committee, therefore, report that the evidence does not justify them in concluding that the Minister knew of the conspiracy before mentioned, or that he willingly lent himself to its objects.

On the other hand, Messrs. Mills and Davies in their report say:—

In concluding their report your committee would observe that the manner in which the several contracts were obtained by Larkin, Connolly & Co. from the Public Works Department and the Quebec Harbor Commissioners, the modifications subsequently made in these contracts in the interest of the firm, the enormous sums allowed them out of the public funds for extras and for damages, indicate without any reasonable doubt that this firm had gained a controlling influence over the Minister and Department of Public Works.

To the ordinary reader the majority's finding looks exceedingly like "whitewash," while the minority severely condemns the ex-Minister. The Colonist quotes the Mail as finding a substantial agreement between the two reports, but with a little closer attention our contemporary would have seen that the Mail's opinion does not apply to those portions of the reports which refer to Sir Hector. The last Mail to hand has an article on the two documents which starts off thus:

The two reports on the McGreevy case, while agreeing in the condemnation of Uncle Thomas, differ widely when they come to deal with the measure of responsibility or blame attachable to Sir Hector Langevin. The one denies that Sir Hector was under the control of the contractors or of Mr. McGreevy, and attributes his maladministration to the confidence which he reposed in his officers; but the other assumes that Sir Hector was cognizant of all the transactions, and that he was as much a party to the boodling as Thomas McGreevy, or, indeed, as Murphy.

The Mail points to the Esquimalt dock affair as evidence that Sir Hector was not innocent, and any impartial observer will agree with its conclusion. In regard to this work, tenders were first called for on Nov. 12, 1883. Two tenders were then received, one from Baskerville & Co., for $465,309, and the other from Starrs & O'Hanly, for $215,240. On the 17th April, Chief Engineer Perley reported that the Baskerville tender "was greatly in excess of the value of the work to be done," whilst "that of Starrs & O'Hanly was as much too low, and that they could not possibly execute the work for the prices named; that they had asked to amend their tender, a course not usually pursued, and that he recommended that neither tender be accepted and that the checks of the tenderers be returned." Starrs & O'Hanly applied for their check and got it back, but Baskerville & Co., continued negotiations with the department until finally Mr. Perley reported in favor of accepting their tender in a modified form, the amount being reduced to $362,000. Just then Sir Hector went to Quebec, where Murphy had a talk with him. Whether owing to Murphy's advice or not, Sir Hector decided to throw out Baskerville's offer and advertise for new tenders. As a result of this second call a large batch of offers came in. Starrs & O'Hanly made the lowest, Larkin, Connolly & Co. the next, and Baskerville & Co. the next. Starrs & O'Hanley should have received the contract. The Minister recognized this, for a report was made to Council recommending that Starrs & O'Hanly's tender be accepted. Ten days after this report was adopted a new deal was effected. Starrs & O'Hanly, who had already refused to be frightened out of the acceptance of the contract on the representation that they were not financially strong enough to carry it out, succumbed to Sir Hector's allegation, personally made, that there would positively be no allowance for extras. The withdrawal of their tender as a consequence of the Minister's intervention left Larkin, Connolly & Co. in full possession of the field. To that firm, then, the contract went, and with the results which have been made known during the course of the enquiry. Not only were extras allowed to the lucky firm, in contravention of Sir Hector's declaration to Starrs & O'Hanly; but anything in the way of a profitable change that Larkin, Connolly & Company wanted was promptly agreed to. There was in this transaction very definite proof that Sir Hector played into the hands of Larkin, Connolly & Co., and it was proved that in return these contractors paid large sums, the final destination of which has not been ascertained. On this point the minority report finds:

That Thomas McGreevy corruptly agreed with Larkin, Connolly & Co., in consideration of large sums of money to be paid him by them, to use his influence with the Minister of Public Works, and the Department in the first instance, to obtain for them the contract for this dock and afterwards to procure changes and alterations in the contract for the interest of the contractors. That said Thomas McGreevy successfully used his influence for these purposes, and received large sums of money from the contractors, pursuant to this corrupt agreement.

That other large sums of money were paid out of the moneys received by the contractors for the construction of this dock for corrupt purposes, but your committee are unable, owing to the conflicting and uncertain evidence, to arrive at any definite conclusion as to the destination of these moneys.

That before the contract was entered into Sir Hector Langevin had secretly assented to changes and modifications of the contract which were to be afterwards made in the interests of the contractors, amongst which was a rebate of part of the $50,000 to be paid for plant.

That the change made in the recoursing of the dock was applied for by the contractors in their own interests, they having discovered a quarry within accessible distance, which furnished suitable stone for the proposed change, and was assented to by the Minister on the distinct understanding that it should not increase the cost of the work to the Crown; nor does it appear why it should have done so, inasmuch as Engineer Perley pointed out at the time the cost of the work to the contractors, in the use of the larger stone, would be lessened.

That notwithstanding these facts, the Minister subsequently improperly paid to the contractors for this change the sum of at least $32,839.

There is plain proof that Sir Hector was a party to the fraud in connection with the Esquimalt dock, and more than a suspicion that if he did not actually get money for himself he was quite well aware that his election fund was benefitted. What more natural than to suspect that his conduct in this matter was repeated in connection with other contracts, as the minority report alleges?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Montreal Gazette, while agreeing with the majority report, that Sir Hector Langevin was not guilty of corruption, says: "Sir Hector Langevin's integrity is upheld at the expense of his reputation as a careful and efficient administrator." And again: "The whole story covers a dark page in Canada's history, and one that, it can only be hoped, will never have a parallel."

The Toronto correspondent of the Montreal Witness says: "A good deal of interest is taken amongst graduates of Victoria University in the election of representatives of their body to the Senate of the University of Toronto. The division into those favoring and those opposing federation with the Provincial institution seems to have died almost away, and the result of the election will probably be to add a valuable element to the Senate."

A Presbyterian clergyman, of Bathurst, N.B., writing to the Presbyterian Witness, of Halifax, recently, said: "We have lost a large number of families by death and emigration. Four years ago we reported 110 families, this year we report only 65. Most of the families that have gone are now in the United States. There must be something radically wrong in the government of the country when so many of our best citizens are forced to seek a livelihood under a foreign flag." There is something radically wrong, but the Tories instead of agreeing that a reform is needed howl "treason" whenever the wrong is pointed out.

VERNON VS. THE TIMES.

plaintiff thought it was because there was no application made for them.

Mr. Kains completed the survey of Gray and Devereux; that part is represented on the map in purple; Mr. Richards completed the portion marked yellow in 1883. Referring to a Gazette notice of 1882 with reference to surveyed lands witness said it did not include all the land surveyed. There was a foot note to this to the effect that persons having adverse claims to this land must file notice thereof at the Lands and Works office 30 days after date of the Gazette notice.

In the Gazette of 26th September was a notice that certain lands in this district had been surveyed and plans were to be seen at the office of the department—who were the parties applying for this land which brought forward this notice?—Mr. H. S. Mason made application some two months before the land was sold.

Was it to Mr. Barnard?—No, it was to Mr. Nason.

In the notice of the Gazette for 1883 the lands are spoken of as situated at Fort Simpson, why was that changed and no mention of Fort Simpson made in the Gazette of 1889?—I don't know.

Why was the footnote with reference to adverse omitted in 1889?—Because the act does not provide for it. At the time we were working under the land act of 1875, in 1889 we were working under a different act.

Did you consider it a part of your duty to see that the provisions of the land act are carried out?—Yes.

When these applications that are in dispute were made at your office were any enquiries made to see that the land act had been complied with?—It is presumed so when application is made and I am satisfied the clerks look into the matter as far as they can.

The greatest chainage that can be applied for is 80 by 80?—No the act does not limit the application, but it provides that you cannot survey or sell more than 80 by 80 chains.

Witness stated that his reason for objecting to the claim of Mr. Green was that he had not put down the proper number of posts.

But that objection would also apply for instance to Mr. Davies'. How many acres did he apply for? 1760.

How many posts did he put down? I cannot say.

How is it that you didn't discover that before you accepted his application?—Witness repeated his presumption that everything was correct until it was proved otherwise.

With reference to Mr. Davies' application, and his deposit of 10 per cent. thereon before the time had expired, witness said it was customary to receive deposits before the time, but not pass them to account.

Mr. Davies' application calls for land 200 chains in width, and it ran out into the Works canal a long distance?—Yes.

That was one of the objections you raised to the claims of the rival applications, why did you not raise it to Mr. Davies?—Mr. Davies, claim was not then in dispute.

Mr. Fell said it was the duty of the department to obtain some statement or evidence that the Land Act had been complied with.

The judge—It is not a question of Mr. Vernon neglecting his duty; it is to find whether the TIMES is justified in likening him to a gambler who plays with cards up his sleeves.

Mr. Fell—That is for the jury to decide.

Mr. Fell—Mr. Cummings' application was accepted and the 10 per cent., deposit made on the 1st of March. The first insertion in the Gazette was the 3rd January.

Then you accepted it before the two months had expired? Witness hoped counsel was not going to trip him up over a day or two.

Will you refer to Mr. Cunningham's application and state where his stakes should be planted?—In the the center of section 23.

Where is that, does it not run into the water?—It may be on the edge of the water—it appears to be.

And he has gone to the other side of the channel?

This was not discovered at the time, of course in dealing with unsurveyed lands parties are liable sometimes to make errors of this kind. In the usual course of events, had no protest been received, the crown grant for these applications would have been issued. It was on account of the request of certain members of the executive that the investigation was held. It was that which prevented the crown grants being issued.

The counse elicited the fact that Mr. Davies made an application on the 25th of January and the deposit was made on the same date. The witness stated that the reason why no enquiry was made into the protest against Mr. Barnard's application of 21st December, 1890, was because the protests were simply statements that could be made by anyone, and were unsupported.

They were made over the signatures of three leading solicitors? Well we all know what solicitors are (laughter), they are acting for their clients. They suggested indirectly that an enquiry should be held.

The court here rose for recess and reassembled at 7:30 p.m., when Mr. Fell resumed the cross-examination of Mr. Vernon. The latter repeated that he declined to hold the enquiry because it was requested on the unsupported statement that the lands had not been surveyed.

Mr. Walls and others wrote that they were prepared to produce evidence to you that these parties had not complied with the act; did you not consider these something more than bare allegations?

Witness took it that this evidence should have been forthcoming, and if he had misinterpreted the act, the parties had a remedy in applying to the Supreme Court. He held the investigation on no particular authority of the Land Act, but simply because several members of the executive wished to have it held, but with regard to promising that investigation he had no remembrance of it.

After these protests came in you gave instructions to these parties to go on with the surveys? The fact of the 60 days having expired carried with it permission to go on with the survey.

Being pressed for a definite answer witness said that permission was given by the department, but personally witness gave none. Gray & Devereux were instructed to do the survey. Before leaving the province for Ireland witness gave no particular instructions with regard to the issuance of Crown grants for these applications.

Does not the sketch plan of Mr. Barnard's application show more than 80 chains in width? Yes.

Why was not objection made to that application? The Department could not know whether there was one or two posts. If there had been a sufficient number of posts to show that more than 80 chains could be taken, the application would be in order. The department did not make any efforts to enquire.

Counsel showed that one application of Mr. Barnard's took him into and across the water. It was proved in this connection too, that Mr. Barnard had paid his ten per cent. deposit before the expiration of the 60 days, but witness held that it was merely accepted as the others were and was not carried to account.

Mr. Cunningham also paid his ten per cent?—Yes.

Why then was his land gazetted, and instructions given to prepare his crown grant?—Witness eventually answered after denying that he gave any instructions to prepare the crown grant, that such could be done by the department provided everything was in order.

Cunningham's land was gazetted and his 90 per cent was not paid—were any instructions given not to prepare his crown grant?—No; I do not think there was.

Had you any private correspondence with any of these parties relative to these lands? I have no recollection of any. Possibly I may have scribbled a note to some one.

Did you receive any private letters from anyone about them? The only private letter I received was from Mr. Barnard, and that has been put in with the correspondence. Mr. Barnard is a personal friend of mine, the same as any other gentleman in court might be.

Did you inform Mr. Barnard that you were going to make a report of the matter to the executive? I could not tell you.

Did you ever advise any of the parties to compromise this matter? It is very likely I did in the first stages of the matter, when each party appeared to be fighting about a piece of land to which I attributed no particular value.

You are positive there was no suggestion made of a compromise after the investigation? I don't think there was on my part.

What was the value of these lands at that time? They might have been worth a dollar an acre.

What are they worth at the present time? I haven't any idea.

From the reasons which led you to withddraw them from sale, what do you think is the value of—

His Lordship ruled this question out.

You consider them of more value now?

His Lordship again ruled out the question, on the ground that witness should not be asked to divulge a state secret.

Had you any evidence on oath from the rival applicants calling your attention to these objections?

No, none whatever.

His Lordship—Take care, take care.

It was shown that statements were made by Davies and Cunningham verified by affidavits.

As to why the objections were discovered by the Department in the claims of Green, Alexander and Bolton and yet were passed over in those of Davies, Barnard and Cunningham, witness stated it was because the attention of the Department was not called to them. Witness never gave these parties any notice of the decision he had given in consequence of the investigation. He considered the notification on the auction sale quite sufficient notice.

On the 4th of September Mr. Barnard wrote that his money, less 10 per cent., was returned—Why was 10 per cent kept back?—I was not at home at the time.

Mr. Davie was called and gave evidence on these claims, and proceeded to combat the charge of favoritism He, with other members of the executive, on reading the alleged libel in the TIMES were unanimous that the only steps to be taken were an immediate institution of legal proceedings for libel. Mr. Davie went to the office of the TIMES and purchased copies of the paper. He also prepared statements of claim, and procured the order-in-council permitting the publication of certain official documents. There was no meeting of the executive held to do this. This conduct he considered quite consistent with his position as attorney-general.

This closed the case for the plaintiff, and Mr. Fell gave notice of motion for nonsuit as against Mr. Templeman.

The court rose about ten o'clock.

Smashed the Windows.

This afternoon as a teamster was unloading a lot of windows from his wagon at the Five Sister Block, another team came along and struck the hub of his wagon. The wagon was upset and the contents smashed to pieces. New glass will have to be put in all the sashes. The loss will amount to about $100

Police Court Notes.

Mr. Wm. Dalby, J. P., occupied the bench at the police court this morning, Mr. Belyea being absent. James Hayward was fined $17 or one month for assault on an Indian. Two drunks were dealt with in the usual manner, and three Chinese were fined $5 for obstructing Government street with goods.

Case Adjourned.

Frederick Day was charged in the police court this morning by Mrs. Mary Ball with having used threatening language to her, and compainant prays that Day be bound over to keep the peace. Mr. Wm. Dalby, J.P., was on the bench, and adjourned the case until to-morrow to allow of it being heard by Police Magistrate Belyea.

Return of the Pheasant.

Early last evening the man-of-war Pheasant anchored at Esquimalt, she having returned from her cruise to Behring Sea, where she has been engaged in enforcing the modus vivendi. News by her has for the most part been forestalled by the arrival of the schooners warned, but it is stated that the Danube is soon expected in with the British commissioners. The Pheasant brought down the arms and ammunition of the schooner E. B. Marvin which were taken by the Nymphe at Ounalaska.

A Grand Exhibition.

Prof. Foster, his pupils, H.M.S. Warspite band and other citizens, will give a grand exhibition at the Victoria theatre to-morrow evening. The programme will consist of songs and dances, cutlas drill, boxing, single stick drill and lightning sketches of prominent citizens by J. Musgorve, caricaturist. By request a grand statue and tableau exhibition from the manly art of self defense will be given by Prof. Foster and pupil. Tickets to be had at M. W. Wait & Co.'s.

Remanded Till To-Morrow.

John Fay was charged in the Provincial Police Court this morning with having stolen $44 from the schooner Oscar and Hattie. From evidence produced it appears that Fay was left on the schooner by himself and when the watchman returned he found the box broken open, which, however, was after Fay had gone ashore. The case was remanded till to-morrow.

A Woman Assaulted.

A complaint has been made to the police by Mrs. Verdier, who resides out in the suburbs, that last night she was alarmed by the cry of fire, and when she went to open the door a man that was outside tried to force his way into the house, and being resisted by Mrs. Verdier assaulted her, inflicting severe contusions on her face. She says she could not recognize the man even if she met him again, as it was dark at the time.

The Victorian Delayed.

The steamer Victorian was subjected to a delay of several hours this morning. She did not arrive from the Sound until 6:30, and when she did arrive, she had to wait for several hours to get coal. Her coal scow broke away from the wharf, and it was late in the morning before the men could commence to take on the coal. She left for the Sound at 10:30. Her owners, the Union Pacific Railway Company, have decided to run her on her present schedule, and not change to the night run as was proposed.

A Handsome Book.

A very handsome book containing photographs and letter press descriptions of British Columbia places of business has just been published by Messrs. Pauline & Smith, and will be placed on the streets and in the offices of the principal hotels to-night. The The work, both from a literary standpoint and in its mechanical get up, is a fine one. Munro Miller has done the printing and binding and the job is first-class. The views are 8x10 inches, and with the written matter will be very entertaining to strangers who desire to see just what Victoria and her sister cities are like.

The Danube Coming Down.

The C.P.N. company's steamer Danube, under charter to the British Government to take the Behring sea commissioners up to the seal islands, is now on her way to Victoria, and may be expected any hour. She was sighted by the Otto on Friday last, early in the morning, off Cape Scott. At that time she was standing in toward the land. She is in all likelihood coming down by the inside channel, and no doubt a visit of inspection is being paid to the northern canneries at the same time, as the commissioners are obtaining information on the fisheries of British Columbia at well as the sealing industry.

Fined and Imprisoned.

Geo. Keal, an old offender, was up in the Provincial Court this morning, charged with supplying liquor to Indians. George pleaded innocence, but Officer McNeil swore that about 9:15 last night he was in the woods near Esquimalt keeping his eye on three cases of square gin. He had not waited long when George came along with an Indian and proceeded to remove the cases, when he arrested him. The Indian deposed that he had paid the prisoner $61 for the three cases. When asked if he had anything to say the prisoner kept his seat and kept on talking and when requested to stand he excused himself by saying he had never been in a court before. This caused laughter as it was only a few months ago that Mr. Robt. Ward, J.P., who was on the bench, sentenced George to three months for the same offence. Considering the wholesale manner in which the prisoner had gone into the business the court fined the prisoner $300 and also to spend four months in the common jail at hard work.

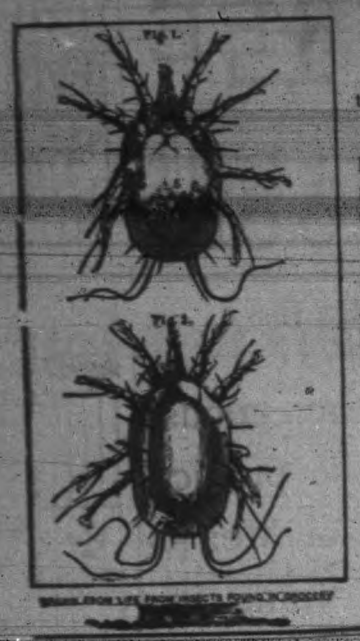
CHINESE - SUGARS; - WHAT - IT - IS - WE - MAY - BE - EATING!



In view of the introduction to the Province recently of considerable quantities of Chinese Sugars, it may be as well that the Public should be informed, on the very highest possible authority, of the danger that may be attendant upon their use.

Professor Cameron, Public Analyst, Dublin, a gentleman who has made it his special business to examine all kinds of Foreign Sugars, Refined and other, says that certain kinds of them should never be used. He states that they contain great numbers of DISGUSTING INSECTS, which produce a DISGUSTING DISEASE. Their shape is very accurately shown in the accompanying cut, which is magnified two hundred diameters. Figure 1 is the under side, and Figure 2 the upper. The Professor's description is as follows:—

"This insect ('the Acarus Sacchari') is a formidably organized, exceedingly lively, and decidedly ugly little animal. From its oval-shaped body stretches forth a proboscis terminating in a kind of scissors, with which it seizes its food. Its organs of locomotion consist of eight legs, each jointed and furnished at its extremity with a hook. In the Sugar its movements from one place to another are necessarily very slow, but when placed on a perfectly clean and dry surface, it moves along with great rapidity." He adds that the number of "Acari" found in Unrefined Sugar is "sometimes exceedingly great, and in no instance is the article quite free from either the insects or their eggs." He further says:—"The Acari Sacchari" do not occur in Refined Sugar of any quality, because they cannot pass through the charcoal filters of the Refinery, and because Refined Sugar does not contain any nitrogenous substance upon which they can feed."

COOLIE - MADE - AND - ALL - UNREFINED - SUGARS - SHOULD - NEVER - BE - USED!

Besides its being impossible for Canadian Labor to compete with Coolie Labor, rice fed and under paid, it is well known that Eastern Countries have always been the breeding ground for leprosy and all other loathsome and horrible human diseases, and hand labor there is so cheap that there is no inducement to employ machinery. Home Refined Sugar, on the contrary, is never touched by the human hand from the moment it reaches the refiner until it leaves him a perfectly safe and purified article.

Use, therefore, Only Home Refined Sugars; They Are Absolutely Unadulterated, Pure and Cheap.

THE RING.

HERGET DEFEATS GALLAGHER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The greatest fight, in all probability, that was ever seen in this city was fought last night in the club rooms of the new Occidental club between "Young Mitchell," which is the nom de guerre of Johnny Herget, and Reddy Gallagher, the best middleweight that the country which has the misfortune to lie east of the Rockies, can produce.

Both men were in the pink of condition and weighed in, as nearly as possible, at even weights, though it was claimed that Herget had the advantage of a pound or nearly.

Betting in San Francisco was altogether in favor of the local boy, but Reddy was backed by lots of Eastern bullion, at something very like even money just before the fight.

The purse hung up was $5000, of which $750 was to go to the loser.

The rooms were crowded long before the hour advertised for the commencement of the battle, and it was noticeable that many of the most representative people of the city were present to witness the mill, regardless of their reputation for respectability and other minor considerations.

Jack Dempsey and Sam Fitzpatrick handled Herget, and the former smashed his record as a "hoodoo" second, in a most effectual manner. Bob Masterson and Jimmy Carroll took care of Gallagher.

The battle opened, as nearly as possible, on the stroke of 9 p.m., and was genuine business from the word go. Mitchell took the aggressive promptly, and was gamely responded to by Gallagher. Both men showed splendid science and idomitable pluck, but Mitchell scored most effectively, playing around the Denver man, and only failing in getting away from Reddy's deftly planted uppercuts. It was a mere matter of give-and-take up to the close of the third round when Mitchell visited Gallagher's left eye in a way that made it wink for keeps. Throughout the remaining rounds Mitchell played for Gallagher's ribs, but did not succeed in scoring several clever returns from Gallagher. In the last two rounds Mitchell paid particular attention to the frontispiece of his opponent, and finally downed him with a pair of the neatest blows ever delivered in the ring—one with the left on the neck and the other with the right on the chin. Reddy made a brave attempt to get up in time to escape being counted out, but could not beat the gong.

The fight was accordingly given to Mitchell and the purse—minus $750 donation to the loser—and put in the great middleweight's jeans.

The defeated man, when told that he had lost, said: "It's all right boys, he's a better man than I am, or he wouldn't have won. See?"

Herget is now as big a hero in the city as Jim Corbett.

Jackson's refereeing of the fight was unexceptionable.

Demsey is—like the farmer when rain comes—"jubilant," over the success of his pet pupil.

Fatal Railway Wreck.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Sept. 25.—A terrible wreck occurred yesterday morning on the Pittsburg & Western railroad at McKee's siding. At this point a work train, with a force of 50 men, was engaged in putting down a new track. While they were on the train throwing off dirt, a freight crashed into it, piling cars and engine up in one mass. Steam and boiling water poured over those caught in the wreck. For a moment there was silence, then the air was broken by the shrieks of the dying, making a scene so terrible, that one of the trainmen, who escaped injury, fainted with horror. The trainmen and laborers, who were not injured, began at once to assist those imprisoned in the debris. By 11 o'clock, the bodies of eight Italian laborers were taken from the wreck, and with Engineer Houghton, the number of the dead are nine. At least 20 men are injured, several of whom cannot recover. All the bodies were terribly disfigured. In a short time physicians and citizens were at the scene, rendering all the assistance possible. All trains are delayed, but a large force of men are at work clearing the track.

Every tissue of the body, every nerve, bone and muscle is made stronger and more healthy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

All broken lines boots and shoes must be cleared out to make room for new goods. Carmichael & Patterson, Johnson street.

Balmaceda's Silver.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Counsel on behalf of the Chilian government applied to Justice Jeune to restrain the mail packet company owning the steamship Moselle from parting with $750,000 of bullion brought from Montevideo recently, except to the Bank of England for storage purposes. The same counsel asked the justice to forbid the Bank of the River Plate from parting with certain documents referring to the bullion. Counsel for the bank, referring to this bullion, objected to this demand, asserting that the financial institution referred to has already parted with $125,000 on account of this bullion, and that it had accepted other bills and drafts against it. Justice Jeune decided that the bullion should remain at the Bank of England.

The Czar Will Visit Berlin.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The News correspondent at Odessa says that official circles there take it for granted that the Czar will visit Berlin. Most of the Russians, however, prefer that the Czar return direct to St. Petersburg.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Cologne Gazette's statement that the Czar has accepted the invitation to visit Emperor William in Berlin, October 22, appears to be confirmed by the decision of the Czar to postpone his departure for Copenhagen until October 12.

Heretic MacQueary Turns Universalist.

CLEVELAND Sept. 23.—Rev. Howard MacQueary, formerly of Canton, O., who was tried and convicted of heresy, today sent a letter to Bishop Leonard renouncing the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States. Rev. MacQueary has accepted a call as pastor of the First Universalist church at Saginaw, Mich.

Her Face Her Fortune.

Is commonly said of famous beauties. She who uses with artistic taste Wisdom's Famous Robertine has fortune in the possessing of a complexion to which nothing but the blush of the rose or the freshness of the lily can be compared. This preparation is just what it is claimed to be—the most delightful toilet article and only perfect beautifier known. Read the testimonials from famous artists, celebrated chemists and eminent physicians. D. E. Campbell, agent.

When the blood is out of condition disease is the inevitable result. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the constituents necessary to enrich the blood and build up the nerves. MINING MATTERS.

Notes From the "Nelson Miner"—News from Nelson.

The latest number of the Nelson Miner is to hand, and the following notes have been taken from its columns:

Nelson and Ainsworth are now connected by telephone, and as soon as switchboards arrive from Montreal central offices will be established in both towns.

The warm springs on the Upper Arrow lake, about 45 miles below Revelstoke, are beginning to become famed for the curative properties of their waters. During the summer as many as 80 people at a time were camped in the neighborhood, several of them suffering from chronic rheumatism. Next season a hotel and bath houses will be erected, to better accommodate both tourists and sufferers from disease.

The placers on Hall creek are turning out to be small-sized bonanzas for the few men who had the good sense to stay with the camp. Yesterday "French Eugene" and his partner brought in 32 ounces of dust, the result of their last cleanup, and sold it to Hume & Co. Other claim owners are reported to be doing equally well.

The crosscut tunnel on the Dandy was advanced 15 feet this week, and the boys who have the contract for running it expect to send it in 25 feet next week. Within six weeks it should reach the main ledge, at a depth of 125 ft. from the surface. The lower tunnel is now on the main vein and good headway is being made. The grade of the ore is also improving. That the company means business is evidenced by the fact that supplies for eight months have been ordered.

C. C. Sproule returned to Nelson on Thursday from Goat River, where he has been for a month past. He says that 60 locations at least have been made in the Goat River and Duck Creek camps, and that a number of claim owners will remain and work all winter. Work is now being done on a trail to connect the camps with the custom house.

If the present demand does not increase, there will be no scarcity of well-seasoned lumber next spring. The Davies-Sayward, the Nelson Sawmill Company, and the Buchanan mills are all running.

James Fox came in from the lower country this week. He said that he had been on a prospecting trip on Deep creek, a stream that flows into the Pend d'Oreille on this side of the boundary line. A. H. Kelly and Thos. McAuley were with him. The country is a good one to prospect in, the indications being favorable; but forest fires were raging, and they were driven out. However, the recent rains will allow them to return.

While there has not been work enough done on the Whitewater claim on Bowe creek to make it a mine, the work done has proved the claim to be a pretty good prospect. Two tunnels have been run on the property, the upper one being 130 feet on the vein and the lower one in 110 feet. A crosscut will soon be started from the lower tunnel to tap the main vein. The free gold is in iron stained quartz, which runs about $16 to the ton. The vein varies in width from two to eight feet. According to an estimate recently made there are 1,500 tons of ore in sight. Between 1,700 and 2,000 tons have been run through a small Huntington mill since the middle of July. Although not over 50 per cent. of the gold was saved, yet between $2,000 and $3,000 in bullion has been shipped to Victoria. The mill will be run about a month longer, when it will probably be closed down and preparations made for putting in a 10 or a 20-stamp mill.

Harry Young, who ran Jake Cobaugh out of the country by the underground railway, is again at Nelson. Colville being too dull a place for him to live in, J. C. Fay, who represents San Francisco mining capitalists, is taking a look at our wonderful undeveloped resources. Provincial Assayer McCullough, of Victoria, is making Nelson his headquarters while examining properties in Toad Mountain district.

The steamer Midge brought in this week three tons of potatoes, one ton of cabbage, and 300 pounds of carrots from Captain Davis' ranch on Kootenay River. The potatoes sold at 3½ cents and the cabbage and carrots at 4 cents a pound.

Donald Notes.

DONALD, Sept. 23.—Judge Walkem held court last Wednesday and had before him William Simmons, who broke jail at Golden, and was recaptured at Palliser. He wanted to have a speedy trial, so after a severe lecture the judge sentenced him to three months' hard labor.

A. P. Cummins, Q.C. and S.M., has returned from his annual inspection of east Kootenay district.

Some very dangerous sport was going on at the Cob Web Hotel last evening. No harm was meant, but the persons who had live snakes trying to put them on other people, were running a great risk of doing harm. The snakes were harmless, but some people are afraid to have one touch them, and as the sport would very likely lead to a breach of the peace it is hoped that it will not be continued.

Gordon Sutherland, carpenter of Donald, left with his family this afternoon for Golden. He has the contract to build the new church there.

A certain gentleman of profession, who has been residing in Donald for the last year and was considered the soul of honor, forgot when he was paying his debts with checks that he had no money in the bank to redeem them. Some think that before any steps are taken in the court he may redeem the checks and save trouble.

Happy Under Difficulties.

The following taken from Wednesday's Columbian, explains itself: "How to make money.—This is a question that has agitated and puzzled all humanity, from the sage searchers of the philosopher's stone to the devious dodgers who seek the wherewithal by any possible means; and it is a question which—up to yesterday—had never been satisfactorily and conclusively answered. It remained for five of our city solons, namely, Aldermen Scoullar, Keary, Smither, Ovens, and Gifford, to solve the vexed problem, the aforementioned gentlemen having severally entered suit against the Columbian for alleged libel, in the sum of $10,000 each. We don't mind such a trifle as $50,000, at all, and are astonished at the modesty of the illustrious quintette; but we would much rather contribute it to some deserving and needy public object, say the board of works exchequer, the hospital, or a home for incurables, rather than 'blow it in' to swell private fortunes. However, as it will be a first-rate advertisement for us, we shall not complain at the conditions."

Census Proclamation.

The undersigned are commissioned by the City Council of Victoria to retake the census of this city and to give an honest and complete report of every resident, his family, children, servant, lodgers and s. f., and will start in on that important work with a full force of well known business men, on Wednesday, September 23, Thursday, Sept. 24, and Friday, Sept. 25.

War Feeling in France.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—With regard to relaxation of passport regulations in Alsace-Lorraine, the French papers are of the avowed opinion that Germany is forced to act by circumstances. The Chronicle's Paris correspondent declares the feeling that war is imminent, is growing hourly in France, and that this opinion is more or less openly expressed at every embassy in Paris.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla. It had Intense Suffering wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." 8 Years

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL | THE SOUTH FIELD COAL
(Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes). (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL
House and Steam Coal are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

TO OUR PATRONS—The Victoria Electric Company purpose immediately entering upon an extension of their works by the erection of a new and commodious plant house and plant of large capacity, capable of accommodating the ever-increasing demand.

The new station will be located on Constance street, where, added by superior facilities for the production of Light, Power, etc., combined with large output, they will be able to offer even better service, at a very materially reduced cost to consumers.

Pending the completion of these works, every effort will be made to continue the present reliable service, and to deal with patrons fairly. Any believing, however, that they have a grievance are invited to have the difficulty adjusted by presentation to the undersigned LOUIS REDON,
President.

PORT SIMPSON, B.C.

I have placed with me for sale 200 lots forming a part of Port Simpson, and joining the land of Messrs. R. P. Rithet and Frank S. Barnard. The position of Port Simpson, its facilities, and its future are so well told and explained in Mr. Sandford Fleming's report to the Government, and by Mr. Tuttle in his book entitled "Our Northern Land," that it needs no booming. The property placed on the market is considered A 1, and I have every confidence in offering these 200 lots to my clients. The titles are good. The price of the lots will be $90 inside, and $110 for corners. Terms:—One-third cash, and the balance in four and eight months. For maps, terms, etc., address:—

TO DEPOSITORS

The British Columbia Land & Investment Agency, Ld.

(SUCCESSORS TO ALLSOP & MASON.)

In view of the low rate of interest given by the Dominion Savings Bank Department, and the restrictions imposed as to the amount to be deposited, this Company is now prepared to receive money on deposit, in large or small amounts, at interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, and on favorable terms as to notice, etc.

The offices of the Company have been removed to 40 Government street, the premises lately occupied by the Telegraph Company.
